Electronic Fetal Monitoring:
Review Course and Certification Preparation

By Lisa A. Miller, CNM, JD

List price is $269*

Discounted pricing is available for groups of 10 or more, or for Enterprises.

This nine-module program is now available for purchase. It includes:

- Pretest
- Introductory Concepts and Equipment Review, Intermittent Auscultation and Fetal Movement Counting, and Antepartum Testing
- Core Physiological Concepts: Uteroplacental Physiology, Fetal Circulation, and Amniotic Fluid
- Fetal Heart Rate Physiology, Understanding Acid-Base
- NICHD Definitions
- Fetal Heart Rate Interpretation and Management
- Fetal Arrhythmias
- Legal Issues and Documentation
- Closing Thoughts and Test Taking Tips

The EFM Review Course is designed for nurses, midwives, physicians, and hospital/Enterprises:

- Preparing for any credentialing exam related to electronic fetal monitoring (such as the NCC EFM certification exam)
- Obtaining continuing education hours for certification maintenance or licensure
- Incorporating core fetal monitoring concepts into orientation programs

Each course contains a discussion from Lisa, as well as interactive activities, knowledge checks, and quizzes.

This program has been approved for 8 contact hours by Cypher Maternal Fetal Solutions, LLC, an approved provider by the California Board of Registered Nursing - Provider Number #CEP17031.

Program is powered by OBIX P.O.E.T.

*Due to the nature of this educational offering, all sales are final and non-refundable.

Program Preview

Purchase today!

Request Group Quote