Candidates for Diocesan Assembly

Heather Herrington

Heather Herrington is a dedicated leader and professional based in Orlando, Florida, who specializes in bridging the gap between technical operations and human-centered mission. As a candidate for the office of Communications Secretary, she brings a vision of creating a "digital front porch" for the Diocese—a space as welcoming and accessible as a conversation in a Great Hall.

"My call to serve at the diocesan level stems from a desire to use my professional skills to bridge the gap between our technical operations and our heart-led mission. By modernizing our tools and simplifying our systems, I aim to foster a stronger sense of belonging in our collective journey of prayer and service."

A long-standing member of the St. Mary's Chapter at the Cathedral Church of St. Luke, Heather became a Daughter in November 2023. Her journey within the Order has been defined by a commitment to the health of the sisterhood. Having previously served as Vice President, she currently serves as Chapter President. These roles have reinforced her belief that clear, consistent communication is vital to fostering a sense of belonging and ensuring every Daughter feels connected and informed.

Heather holds a BS in Psychology, a foundation that ensures her approach to communication remains empathetic and people-focused. Professionally, she serves as an Administrative Assistant and IT Coordinator, managing the "digital plumbing" of complex systems. She is well-versed in website management, tools she intends to leverage to modernize diocesan systems and simplify collective workflows.

Outside of her professional and ministerial roles, Heather is the founder of Loaves & Groves, an artisanal venture focused on craft, cultivation, and botanical arts. Her life is a blend of modern technical skill and traditional domesticity, from milling ancient grains for sourdough to homeschooling her daughter and practicing native gardening.
