

You are cordially invited to participate in the Philadelphia Education Fund College Access Program's First Annual STEM Career Expo themed:

STEM is Everywhere

Date: February 23, 2017

Time: 9am-2pm

Location: Philadelphia School District
440 N. Broad St., Phila., PA 19422

Objective: STEM is Everywhere provides 10th grade students from select high schools with up close and personal insight of STEM career fields. Students from Horace Furness, John Bartram, Kensington Creative and Performing Arts, Olney Charter and The Academies at Roxborough High Schools will be introduced to STEM professionals and exposed to interactive experiences involving STEM initiatives and occupations.

Lunch is provided

We are seeking professionals in STEM career fields.

Register as a volunteer for STEM Career Expo here

Contact Person: Dolores G. Adriaanse, Division Manager, Philadelphia Education Fund College Access Program, (215) 665-1400, dadriaanse@philaedfund.org

This event is hosted in conjunction with the School District of Philadelphia Office of College & Career Readiness

Philadelphia College
Education ★ Access
Fund Program

Champions for public education
www.philaedfund.org

