Course Overview

This course gives participants an overview of the structure and organization of The United Methodist Church. Our text is Polity, Practice, and the Mission of The United Methodist Church by Thomas E. Frank. A copy of the 2016 Book of Discipline is recommended for both the online and text version of this course.

This in-depth analysis of the connection between United Methodist polity and theology addresses ways in which historical developments have shaped--and continue to shape--the organization of the church.

Course Overview

This course offers insights into the life span and the dynamics of contemporary life to help church leaders reach out with God's love and care to giving to others. How do we learn to care for others in the community — whether the community of faith or the extended community? Some people seem to have natural gifts, but most of us can learn to show caring and to improve our caring skills. Farabaugh's work offers insights into the life span and into the dynamics of contemporary life to help us reach out with God's love and care to others. Farabaugh offers a systemic way for caring to happen within congregational life. By using this resource, overworked pastors will find personal respite in the use of caring gifts among the laity in the church. This text is broken down into two parts. The first part contains an overview of caring ministries by means of a daylong retreat. In the second part Farabaugh gives plans for an ongoing series of monthly meetings to cover a variety of topics in congregational care.
