

Free ticketed event: Friday, October 21, 7:00 pm at the Dennon Museum's Milliken Auditorium

Irene Miller, a Holocaust survivor, will take you on a survival journey little written and known about. You will sleep in the winter under an open sky on the no man's land; you will freeze in a Siberian labor camp where the bears come to your door front.

In Uzbekistan, you will live on boiled grass or broiled onions, and shiver with malaria. You will spend years in orphanages. When this is over you will wonder how a child with this background grows up to become a positive, creative, accomplished woman with a joy of living and love to share.

Irene has been a keynote speaker at various events in Michigan and Ohio, including at professional conferences, churches, synagogues, schools, universities, adult educational centers, at a campus of incarcerated teens, for military groups, labor unions, and book discussion books. Her memoir, "Into No Man's Land: A Historical Memoir" serves as an "inspiring story of perseverance and triumph over circumstance" and will be available for sale at the event.

"Tolerance is the act of accepting and acknowledging people's differences. For humanity to be successful we must embrace diversity and demonstrate patience for all religious, political and social beliefs so that we can live in harmony."

To reserve your FREE seats, visit: <http://bit.ly/2cE2Klg>

For more information, contact Sharon Vreeland at 231-649-8334, or sevreeland.gtcc@gmail.com

This evening is made possible by a grant from the Ravitz Foundation Initiative for Small Michigan Jewish Communities and with support from United Way of Northwest Michigan, Congregation Beth Shalom of Traverse City, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, and various human services community partners.