JANUARY SERVICES

New Beginnings

Sunday, January 6 - Hal Gurian, Coordinator

10:30 Service: "What Are Our Intentions?"

Most of us have heard the expression, "The road to hell is paved with good intentions!" Hearing it as a child, we may have wondered what it meant, but now as an adult we understand it clearly. We may think that if our intentions are good, that should be worth something. There is one major challenge with that concept - no one can see our intentions. The only thing that can actually be seen is our behavior. Let's think about it!

Sunday, January 13 - Donna Stein-Harris, Coordinator

10:30 Service: "Getting Serious About UU"

Being intentional means that you are purposeful and strive to live a life that is meaningful and fulfilling to you. You make thoughtful choices and actively interact and engage with your life. Join us as we explore what it means to be an intentional Unitarian Universalist.

Sunday, January 20 - Amanda Mangiardi, Coordinator

10:30 Service: "Our Seven Principles"

Rev. Jane Lippert leads our service. It's a fresh year and the ink is still wet on our resolutions. The new year comes with non-negotiables: our age will change; our body will change; however, the core of this community will not change. Our UU principles bind us together, providing deep roots and our unified vision.

Sunday, January 27 - Amanda Mangiardi, Coordinator

10:30 Service: "Our Six Sources"

We live our Seven Principles within a "living tradition" of wisdom and spirituality drawn from sources as diverse as science, poetry, scripture, and personal experience. Let's renew our knowledge and appreciation of the Six Sources that nourish us.

Announcements

Children and Youth Programs

The Religious Education Committee is thrilled to announce the hiring of three new teachers!

The future of an expanding children and youth program at UUCGT is looking very bright, thanks to three newcomers who have agreed to take positions with us.

Due to our Safe Congregation policy, each classroom will have two adults working with the children and youth at all times. The parents of children in grade 5 will have the option of choosing a program that is the best match for their fifth-grader. The teachers' full resumes are available on line (They are sooooo qualified!)

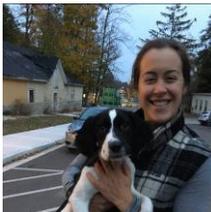

Susan Holmes Glazier will be teaching K-5th graders:

Susan has a Master's Degree in Montessori Elementary Education and was the music director for the UU of the Blue Ridge (VA) from 2011-2014. She will be assisted by parent and congregant volunteers.

Logan Chamberlain and Katie Tomczyk will co-teach 5th-8th graders:

Logan comes to us with college studies in philosophy and photography. He currently runs the after school Kid's Club in Leland in addition to doing marketing and communications for Neahtawanta Research & Education Center.

Katie's Master's degree is in Curriculum and Instruction with endorsements in PE/Health Education and Special Education and she has experience in teaching a wide range of health topics including self-care and reproductive health.

Please give them a Warm Welcome, and support this important curriculum by agreeing to volunteer a few Sundays a year.

Contact Jolynn Paige at heyjopaige@gmail.com or 231-409-2050 if you can help.

The children and youth of the Grand Traverse Region need a place like UUCGT.

Let's build a multi-generational community together!

From the President

UU Board Meeting Summary for December

The UUCGT Board of Trustees met on Tuesday, December 18. Following are key items from the meeting:

- ◆ The Board affirmed the Leadership Development Committee's recommendation to appoint L.E. Smith to the Endowment Committee.
- ◆ The Board conditionally approved a plan for a dedicated meditation center in the smaller of our two classrooms. This space would be used by SokukoJi Buddhist Community and three other meditation groups who already meet at UUCGT. The approval is conditional on agreement with the Religious Education Committee for shared use of the space.
- ◆ The Board approved hiring of a K-5 teacher in our November meeting. This month we approved the hiring of two co-teachers for a grade 5-8 class as additionally recommended by our Religious Education Committee. Teachers were hired shortly after the meeting and classes will begin on January 6 and run through June 16.
- ◆ The Policy Committee brought two recommendations:
 1. Approval of the policy and procedures for the Endowment Committee that were removed from the By-laws by actions in last June's Annual Meeting. This was approved by the Board.
 2. An inconsistency between the By-laws and the Policy manual regarding the office of President-Elect (current Bylaws) and Vice President (current Policy). After some discussion the Board recommended preparing a change to the Bylaws to have the office be named Vice President which is in line with recent practice. Policy Committee will prepare a Bylaw change for approval at this June's Annual Meeting.
- ◆ President Mike McDonald reported on two actions in November's closed Board session:
 1. An increase in our Office Administrator's hourly rate and a bonus were approved.
 2. The Board approved extending the insurance benefits for our Senior Spiritual Leader for ninety days (through March 10) after our contractual obligation to pay for medical leave for six months expires on December 11.
- ◆ The Board discussed and developed an approach for work on one of the goals from the October 20 Planning Session. The goal was a five year goal to establish long term membership and financial sustainability for the Congregation. The other three goals are already underway.

We plan to share highlights from our monthly Board meetings throughout the year. You can also find the minutes of Board meetings on our website. Our Board meetings are open meetings and you are welcome to attend. Our next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, January 22 at 6:00 pm in the large classroom. (Please note date change)

I would like to again thank the Sunday Services Committee, the Congregational Care Committee, the Religious Education Committee and others for stepping up during Rabbi Chava's medical leave. I would also like to recognize the congregation for "showing up" on Sundays. If you have not been coming, you have missed some good services.

Membership News

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

More brightness and light, enjoy the Quiet. But do get out and have some Fun snow time! Winter Greetings from the entire FUN and FRIENDLY Membership Team - Volunteer members Sherry Davis, John Hoffmann, Chris Lautz, Chris Walter, Rick Walter, and Jane Watts, PLUS Ambassadors Jolynn Paige and Dottie Cain — who continue to Welcome, Greet, Facilitate into membership, and Nurture (in Partnership with other groups at UUCGT) prospective, new and current members.

Summer 2018. Pam recently enjoyed reading Sing, Unburied, Sing by Jesmyn Ward and viewing the film Green Book.

Both Pam and Jon are getting involved by participating in Sunday Services, several committees and attending Wednesday Night Suppers, which they find are so important in helping them feel welcomed by the UUCGT community. They feel fortunate to have this UU congregation to enhance their transition to their new home here in Traverse City.

Thank you Jon and Pam! We are very happy that you are part of our UUCGT family!

Betsy Wacker is another new member welcomed on November 4, 2018. You have probably seen her a lot helping with Hospitality on Sunday mornings. She also jumped right in and served on the Christmas Eve at the State Team, assisting with ideas and publicity.

Before moving to Traverse City, Betsy was a 31-year member at Unitarian Church in Westport, CT. When first attending UUCGT this past summer she was seeking spiritual, liberation theology and an active community. In committing to membership Betsy hopes she will find inspiration to be a better person, friendship, social justice action and Fun!

Although Betsy says she is “temporarily” retired, she does enjoy walking, hiking, light gardening, archaeology (including excavating, reading and research) and exploring her new environs in and around Traverse City. She recently enjoyed the film “Puzzle” at the 2018 TC Film Festival. She is very grateful that our UU congregation is here in TC! And we are Grateful to have you as a member of our community, Betsy!

DIRECTORY REMINDER

The 2019 Congregation Directory of Members and Friends will be formatted after the first of the new year 2019, many thanks to Membership Committee member Jane Watts and Susan Sherman, Office Administrator. All members need to have made a monetary contribution of record by December 31, 2018 to be noted as a member in this annual directory. Contact Dave Christenson bookie@uucgt.org or any member of the Finance Committee for information.

One more Greeter is still needed for each Sunday in January - 6, 13, 20 and 27. What does serving as a Greeter involve?

BE A GREETER MINISTRY - Share your smile and Welcoming Spirit. It's easy - just sign up on the bulletin board near the office. Greet just one Sunday, or sign up for a regular or semi-regular shift. Job description is posted on the bulletin board, but simply requires you to:

- 1) Smile, Remember to get down to our little ones' level,
- 2) Say “Welcome”, “Glad you’re here”, “How are you?”, etc.
- 3) Hand out Order of Service
- 4) Count attendees
- 5) Help with offering

SPOTLIGHT ON NEW MEMBERS

Welcome to Pam Hendrick and Jon Luoma, fairly recent arrivals from New Jersey, where they were Charter Members of the UU Congregation of the South Jersey Shore. After moving to Traverse City in the Spring they began attending UUCGT in July. Both Pam and Jon welcome the opportunity to expand community, foster spiritual growth and to engage in social justice and actions.

Jon is a journalist and author. His interest in nature in general often takes him outdoors hiking and birding. Jon also enjoys reading and cooking. He enjoyed sampling some excellent documentaries at the 2018 TC Film Festival. Pam is a retired theatre professor and now she likes to spend some of her time birding, hiking, biking, reading, and attending arts events. She started volunteering as a docent at the Botanic Garden at Historic Barns Park during

Rabbi Chava Update

Rabbi Chava is continuing to recover from her concussion in August and is still under doctor's restrictions to not work and not drive. Donna Stein-Harris and I visited Rabbi Chava this past week and our Staff Resources Committee will be reviewing a return to work plan that Rabbi Chava has prepared. The plan would ease her back into activities over the next six months and is subject to her continued recovery. We will keep you updated.

Meanwhile we have engaged, Rev. Jane Lippert, to lead services once in January and twice in February. Rev. Jane will also assist the Sunday Services Committee in their planning meetings in January and February.

Mike McDonald, President, Board of Trustees

Adapted from Mindful.org....As we enter the New Year, it's tempting to make resolutions that revolve around becoming a "perfect you." Instead, here is an invitation to an alternative view:

Be kind to your imperfect self. Sometimes, the biggest change you can make is not to change at all—and instead, accept yourself for who you are right now, setting the stage for powerful and meaningful transformation. Here's how you might start 2019 with self-compassion rather than self-judgment:

1. Make room for all of your emotions. Too often, we put pressure on ourselves to hide how we really feel and put on a brave face. But pushing away uncomfortable emotions, like sadness or anger, only creates more problems for you down the road. Explore this four-step practice to embrace your emotions, so you can accept your experience as it happens.

2. Forgive yourself for your mistakes. Maybe the past year wasn't as spectacular as you hoped it would be—you might have messed up a job interview, snapped at a friend, or set unreasonable goals for yourself that you never met. Regardless of what you did or didn't do, holding a grudge against yourself won't make you feel any better or fix the situation. Explore these two mindful self-forgiveness practices to move past resentment and anger, so you can let bitterness go.

3. Love your imperfect self. It's easy to compare your life to others, and your inner critic is often all-too-eager to help. By learning to recognize self-doubt, you can break free from judgmental thoughts and treat yourself with self-compassion. Follow this guided meditation to appreciate yourself for who you really are, flaws and all.

Kindness and compassion for others begins with kindness and compassion for ourselves...

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Originally, Christmas was a time for celebrating the birth of the baby Jesus. Now it is also a great party time, but still holds deep religious meaning for many. We have good thoughts and feeling for others, those in need. Giving to those in need has become an integral part of this holiday. Giving to the needy is an integral part of most religions.

But what does giving mean? Giving money? Presents? Changing attitudes to be more accepting of other people, people different than ourselves? Accepting migrants? Wanting family unity for all kinds of families? Opening our homes to immigrants seeking peace from violence and destruction? Is that some of what giving means? One of the hardest things to give is really the most precious gift: the gift of Time.

Can you give time? Safe Harbor, the home for those who find themselves homeless, and our good-hearted members, Sandra and Mike McDonald, give a lot of time organizing and running the shelter. Many of our UU members help, too. Many give precious time on many political campaigns, which nowadays are social justice issues, like a fair wage, equal wages for men and women, women's control of their own bodies, acceptance and respect for others.

I am sure that you are aware that when you give to others, you give to yourself, too. We all know that to be true. Can you give any more time?

I work at a wonderful elementary school. Many of the children do not have complete homes, are stretching insufficient funds for basic needs, have family that work and leave them alone for long periods without much guidance, etc.

Most of the teachers are amazingly dedicated and caring, being flexible, accepting of so many problems, and are loving to the kids. The teachers need people to listen to the kids read. They need help with teaching basic math, everything. They also need help putting away books in the library and helping kids check out books. Do you have that precious thing called Time?

But Christmas is over and many people, hopefully not us, forget those in need. The deprived are still there, needing. There are many ways to give. Go to a nursing home and sit and talk to the residents. Call up those friends who you haven't seen in awhile, especially those who may have had an illness or deaths of family or friends. Our awareness of the needs of others can begin at home, with our own family and friends. January, the month of high suicide rate, is asking for your time. Just a phone call can mean a world of difference to another. Enjoy giving all year.

Talking of giving, here is a story of a woman who gave a lot of time to a stranger, an 11-year-old panhandler from the streets of NY. Try it for a January giving to yourself.

FINANCIAL SUMMARY

As of November 30, 2018
(41.7% of fiscal year)

	Current Year		Prior Year
Budgeted Income Received YTD	$134,494	52.9%	$124,202	45.3%
Budgeted Expenses Paid YTD	$104,405	41.1%	$108,793	39.7%
"For Those in Need" YTD	$ 3,873		$ 5,335

Budgeted income includes the total of all pledged and unpledged donations and miscellaneous income including building rent, etc. "For Those in Need" collections are in addition to Budgeted Income Received and are disbursed quarterly to worthy causes, including Congregational Care, Tuesday Community Lunch and other Community needs outside our congregation. The percentage reflects the portion of the total amount of income or expense budgeted for the fiscal year.

We continue to be off to a good start for the 2018-2019 fiscal year largely due to significant pre-payment of 2018-2019 pledges and some temporary reduction in compensation expense due to staff turnover. If you have not prepaid your pledge, please try to keep your pledge up to date. If you want more detailed information, you can look at our website, click on Board, then on Board Packet, then on Statement of Financial Activity.

Questions can be directed to your Finance Committee which includes Dusty Culton, Karl Keinath, Mike McDonald, Kay Sturgeon and Price Watts.

Program Council Update

The Program Council met December 9, 2018 with 8 members present. As this was an All Music Sunday, discussion was abbreviated.

Rick Walter reported the final summary of our Thanksgiving feast enjoyed by 105 individuals showed $535 income and expenses of $381.20. Expenses were lower than expected due to a $74 rebate from the 2017 event (late opening of the gate and doors, etc.).

Hal Gurian reported Sunday Services is on track for a wonderful Christmas Eve non-denominational service at the State Theatre. Rev. Jody Betten (New Waves United Church of Christ) will provide inspirational message. John Bailey and VE will lead music. Elon Cameron will be the story teller. Collection will be shared 50:50 between The State Theatre and the UU Community Needs program that provides funds to needy causes in our 5 county community.

Hal Gurian (Sunday Services) also updated us on plans for the Super Bowl Raffle to be held and celebrated at UU on February 3, 2019. Tickets will be $35 each or $100 for three. Each ticket buys a square that is randomly selected and then numbers from 0 to 9 are randomly assigned for each column and row that then will correspond to last digit of the score after each quarter. This is a total luck Raffle and will be celebrated at UU with live streaming viewing of the Super Bowl on our large TV. If more than 100 tickets are sold, those individuals will be entered into a 50:50 pool. A member of the Finance Committee will help collect the money and keep records.

Mike and Sandra McDonald were at Safe Harbor filling vacant slots Sunday morning. Our week of service went well. We will be hosting again in March.

Mike McDonald (Board Chair) reported that he had met recently with Chava and she is improving, but will not return before mid-February. He is working with UUA on getting a temporary Spiritual Leader with little success so far.

Emmy Lou Cholak and Barb Conley (via email) reported Social Justice activities:

1. Social Justice collaborated with Community Needs on the Giving Trees with donations going to victims of Camp Fire, CA and Central American refugees seeking humanitarian aid in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico.
2. Social Justice committee has offered to develop a Social Justice Sunday Service 3-4 times a year. Sunday Services committee will discuss.
3. Social Justice committee continues (through Emmy Lou and others) to send quick thoughts to the FLASH. Has anyone made any comments about them?
4. There is an opportunity for someone to attend an intensive anti-racism workshop program for white people that will be offered 2 days in Jan, Feb, March. Cost is over $400. If anyone is interested and can attend, are there funds to defray cost?
5. Lame duck fiasco. We are likely to need people to work on issues that were affected in the lame duck session: issues of fair wage, education, conservation, and others will need attention. This can be nonpartisan.

Rick Walter - (Stewardship) reported our 2019 campaign will begin February 10 with the theme of "Building Momentum" and continue for 6 weeks. Goal for the year is $230,000. The committee (Dave Halsted, Penny Ort, Jan Zerbel, Karl Keinath, Rick Walter) are discussing the possibility of having social justice budget lines that incorporate UUCGT Social Justice activities like Community Needs, Tuesday Lunch, Safe Harbor and other non-partisan social justice activities. A brief discussion of this and information about use of Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCDs) to satisfy mandatory Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) withdrawals as a tax saving way of donating to charities.

Price Watts indicated the Endowment Committee now has a full complement of 5 members and recently had a good meeting.

Our next Program Council meeting is January 13 @ 9:00 a.m. All chairs and interested individuals are welcome to attend.
