2023-2024 AWM Treatment Program

The annual ACP area-wide management (AWM) treatment protocol for 2023-2024 consists of three applications: a summer, fall, and winter AWM treatment. The summer treatments may be a perimeter spray, as long as the grower, grove manager, or PCA/PCO has scouted the orchard and determined that the center rows are free of ACP nymphs in the flush.

The fall and winter treatment window for each Psyllid Management Area (PMA) is three weeks, overlapping with the next window by two weeks. The summer treatment window for each PMA is four weeks, overlapping with the next window by one week. The treatment windows for each PMA are listed below. PMA maps and other information are posted here:

Each organic treatment must consist of two applications applied 10-14 days apart. Double organic treatments are required because of their limited residual activity. The list of approved materials for both conventional and organic orchards is listed here:

It is understood that weather, equipment availability, or other field conditions may result in treatments falling outside the designated windows. Please treat as close to your window as possible, work with your PCA if you have one, and notify your Grower Liaisons of early or delayed treatments.

Growers will be notified about the date of their treatment window either by their packinghouse field reps, their PCAs, or by the Ventura County grower liaisons: Sandra Zwaal (szwaal2@gmail.com) and Cressida Silvers (cressidasb@gmail.com). It will be up to the growers to work with their PCAs and applicators to schedule your treatments.
