COMMUNITY BUILDING THROUGH SOCIAL SERVICE PROVISION

Queens Community House is a bedrock in the most ethnically diverse urban area in the world, where 48% of residents are foreign-born and represent more than 100 different countries. Our sites serve as centers for social service provision, community-building, and local leadership development.

Children & Youth: QCH works within 19 NYC public schools to develop programs that support student learning, provide access to arts and STEM content, curb dropout rates, and help struggling students to achieve a high school diploma. A college-going culture is incorporated within all of our youth programs, and more than 2,500 young people receive college, career, and employment counseling from us every year.

Adults & Families: QCH has helped more than 15,000 Queens families avoid evictions from their homes, and we work consistently with tenants, landlords, and homeowners to ensure neighborhood safety and stability.

Older Adults: We serve more than 7,000 seniors annually, providing access to benefits, home-delivered meals, and opportunities for health, education, and socialization. Our programs help older adults to maintain their independence and dignity during their later years and, for those who choose, to remain in their own homes.

Immigrants: Each year, we assist more than 500 immigrants on their path to English literacy and U.S. citizenship, while helping them to become engaged and contributing neighbors in their new home. Our legal services unit helps families to unite, young adults to apply for DACA, and individuals to become legal residents and U.S. citizens.

LGBTQ Community: Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer (LGBTQ) youth find care, support and acceptance through our Generation Q program, while LGBTQ older adults gather for meals, learning, and socialization at our warm and welcoming Queens Center for Gay Seniors. These programs are just two examples of how we work to help marginalized members integrate into the larger community.
