Character Counts Mid Shore Inc. (30) Curriculum & Program Design Internship

Organization Description - Located in Easton (Talbot County, MD), Character Counts Mid Shore, Inc. is a nonprofit organization that specializes in developing life-changing character strengths in young people across Maryland mid-shore region. At Character Counts Mid Shore, we empower character growth to pave pathways of success for all young people and invest in the vitality of communities. We envision a future where all youth have equitable access to the tools needed to be well prepared for productive lives. In this future, the communities we serve are healthy and sustainable, benefitting from a characterful, engaged citizenry. This is a tremendous opportunity for students to gain instructional design and general nonprofit experience, improve their specific technical skill sets, and help build something that will have a great social impact.

Job Description - We are looking for an intern who shares our passion for making young lives better through education, the power of character, and equity to serve on our program development team. Working together with a team of educators, nonprofit leaders, and program designers, the chosen applicant(s) will gain experience applying curricular design theories to real-time program development at a youth-serving educational nonprofit organization . Primary responsibilities include but are not limited to: Influence Character Counts Mid Shore's strategy and instructional content; Work collaboratively on a new program that promotes quality instruction and assessment; Support the development of our learning framework and interactive, asynchronous learning experiences; Build relationships with partners at all levels -- from interns to academic and administrative leadership, as well as community leaders across the mid-shore region; Work closely with knowledgeable team members to capture program development innovations in a shareable, replicable format. Other responsibilities as necessary.

Qualifications: At least initially, must be willing to work on-site in Easton, MD (a small team taking COVID-19 precautions). As the project becomes more defined, remote work is possible. Must be a full or part-time student and working toward a degree. Must be willing to commit to at least 10 hours per week for approximately 3 months. Flexible; ability to adapt to changing priorities and multiple tasks. Familiarity with the foundations of education theory, curriculum design, and/or nonprofit program administration; interest in educational equity a must. Ability to take initiative and must have the confidence to learn in a "live" environment. Must be reliable with excellent organizational skills and very strong attention to detail.

Integrity, honesty, openness, and a willingness to operate as a team player. (preferred) College level coursework in the art of child development, educational psychology, curriculum design and/or instructional technology.

Additional Information - We are happy to provide a stipend of $500 for the successful completion of the internship. When you work for Character Counts Mid Shore, Inc., you're joining a team of experts and professionals who are committed to bettering our society through molding characterful, engaged, and ready citizens. Character Counts Mid Shore, Inc. will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, gender identity, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. Character Counts Mid Shore, Inc. is committed to maximizing the diversity of its organization and depends on a diverse staff to carry out its mission, and encourages all qualified candidates to apply.
