Allstate Roadside joined thousands of industry professionals at the American Towman ShowPlace Las Vegas - Tow Industry Week.

Allstate Roadside's industry-leading Network Managers spent three unforgettable days meeting with network service providers as well as with new companies interested in growing with Allstate Roadside. These hard working and dedicated Network Managers were excited to be able to talk shop with the great men and women of our industry.

Safety and Technical Classes

- Allstate Roadside's safety and technical classes drew bigger and better than ever crowds.
- Paul Stephens helped us better understand new GM vehicles, worked through some MD and HD rescue scenarios and showed us a ton of information about Electric Vehicles.
- Shawn Sowden from 64 motor cars walked us through various techniques for loading high-end exotic cars and then helped us to understand how these skills transferred to safely towing all vehicles.

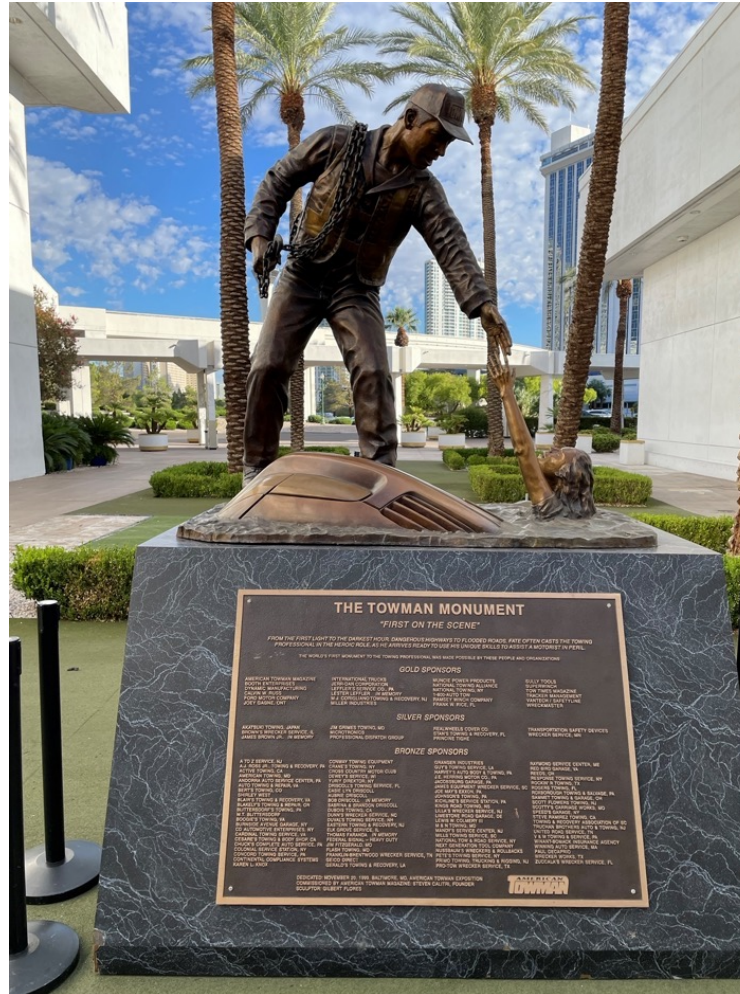

Alex Rylance accepted the Area Award on behalf of R&S Towing. Randall Graham and the rest of us at Allstate Roadside thank you for your hard work!

Marla Hoerner was proud to present our new Safety Champion award to Max Kenworthy and Elite Towing and Recovery for their extraordinary Slow Down Move Over efforts in their company and community.

Slow Down Move Over

The brave men and women that have given the ultimate sacrifice for this industry are always in our hearts and on our minds.

Can you hear me now?

Next up: Baltimore!

We welcome you to visit us in Baltimore for the American Towman Exposition. Allstate Roadside will have a team of Network Managers to help you grow your business. If you want to start with secondary towing or have interest in expanding your current towing business, stop by and say hello.

The education booth will be hopping! Hear from Industry experts Paul Stephens, Brian Riker, and Shawn Sowden as they discuss luxury towing, electric vehicles, the towing industry's labor shortage, and much more.

We hope to see you there!
