

Dear Bracken Community,

The Head of School Search Committee is tremendously excited about the many things God is doing and the strong pool of potential candidates that are coming our way. We covet your prayers as we sift through the information, spending time in prayer and seeking counsel and guidance.

One of the primary pieces of identifying the best candidate for Bracken involves your input. In order to obtain that input in an orderly and clear fashion, you are requested to participate in the survey found at the link below. Whether you are a parent, a grandparent, a donor, or an alumni, we thank you in advance for being willing to complete this survey which will help us get a clearer picture of the entire school so that we can present an accurate view to Bracken's next school leader. It will also help the new Head of School to know the direction that he or she needs to take in order to continue Bracken's positive trajectory for impact in the Kingdom of God.

This survey takes approximately 8-10 minutes to complete. The survey will be available to you beginning today and will close at 11:45 pm on Friday, December 6. Only one parent per household needs to complete the survey but both parents are welcome to do so individually (not one parent answering for both). Bracken alumni (whether living in the home or away) are also receiving the link to this survey and are requested to share their input. Current students will receive a separate survey at a later date seeking their input in the future of the school; therefore, current students should not complete this survey at this time.

Again, we thank you for your honest and valuable responses in completing this survey and helping the school improve, grow, and flourish in the work of Kingdom Education. Bracken Christian School loves to hear from you and values your input. Thank you also for your continued prayer in lifting up this process as well as prayer for the coming Head of School.
