"Teacher, why do we spell 'cat' with a 'c', but 'kitten' with a 'k'?"

Can you answer this question with confidence and accuracy?

Don't worry if you answered no, you are not alone.

Over the course of the five-day ELLI, participating teachers will be actively engaged in increasing their knowledge of basic language concepts and evidence-based instructional practices for reading.

Teachers will also have opportunities to observe and practice research-based instruction, including multi-sensory teaching activities for reading and Guided Language Acquisition Design (GLAD), a model of professional development for language acquisition.
