

Fun Fact, November 1, 2023

Question: Which diocesan bishop at which annual convention said in his address: "The education of youth has become so completely secularized that the teachings and implications of the Bible, as well as the definite principles of life enunciated by Christ Jesus, have almost no place in the instructions of today."

Clue: On the same day as the bishop's address, John Scalise, American gangster, was murdered by Al Capone.

Answer: Bishop Philip Cook said this as part of his annual address delivered at the 144th convention of the Diocese of Delaware held in St. Anne's Church, Middletown, on May 7, 1929.
