The Oldest Inscribed Tombstone in Delaware

The oldest inscribed tombstone in Delaware is that of Margaret Huling who died on Feb. 16, 1707 and is buried in St. Peter's Episcopal Church graveyard in Lewes. The second oldest tombstone is that of Hercules Coutts who died on Sept. 30, 1707 and is buried in a crypt in Immanuel Episcopal Church in New Castle.

Read article from Cape Gazette about the Lewes Historical Society's Grave Database here.