Margaret Leitch Copeland has taught at the college level for 36 years in New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maine and most recently, Singapore. Her leadership roles have included being the Founding Executive Director of the Child Care Connection in Trenton, NJ, the Board President of the Trenton Family Service Association, the Chairperson of the Undergraduate Division of Professional Studies at Wheelock College, the President of the New Hampshire Association for the Education of Young Children, the Administrator of the New Hampshire Child Development Bureau, and the Vice President of the Board of the Maine Children's Alliance. Margaret currently consults with directors of programs for children on their leadership roles. Her grandchildren inform her of the current needs of children in New Hampshire and Maine.

Susan Gimilaro is the Project Director for ACROSS NH where she works to provide professional development opportunities, consultation, and TA to afterschool programs in NH. Susan has worked as a consultant, coach, and trainer in a variety of education settings both locally and nationally. She has worked with early childhood programs, after school programs and public schools, as well as agencies and organizations that support quality initiatives in education. Susan's passion is to inspire staff in their professional development so that together we can create the best opportunities for all children and youth. She believes we have an obligation to do so.

ACROSS NH is a project of SERESC funded by the NH Child Development Bureau. Our goal is to provide statewide technical assistance and professional development opportunities to after school providers to support their work in creating high quality, innovative programs for schoolage children.
