REFLECTIONS FROM TOTUS TUUS

Thinking back to my amazing experience at Totus Tuus, both volunteering at the day program and taking part in the night program, I can't believe that I was actually skeptical to attend when I was first encouraged to do so by my friends. The day program was very fun, and also benefitted me in many ways. I really enjoyed helping the kids during the classes as well as hanging out with them in between classes. I especially liked how all the volunteers worked together to assist the missionaries and ensure that the kids had plenty of fun. The night program was also super enjoyable. We played fun games, such as Gaga Ball, Marshmallow Dodgeball (my personal favorite!), and of course, the shaving cream fight. We also went to Eucharistic Adoration and had the opportunity for the Sacrament of Reconciliation on night three. The dynamic that really made everything fall together was our amazing missionary team. They had great chemistry, and it was thanks to them that we enjoyed humorous skits, great talks, and entertaining games. All in all, Totus Tuus of 2024 was an incredible, faith-building experience, and I'm really looking forward to next year!

—Anna Leininger

In July, I took part in the 2024 Totus Tuus Catholic summer camp where I learned new games, met new friends and caught up with some old ones. However, the coolest part of the experience was that everything was looked at through the lens of our faith. I had an enthralling faith filled week between both the night program, for seventh graders through senior year of high school, and the day program for first through sixth graders. During the day program my friends and I would help out our phenomenal missionaries to give the younger kids a memorable adventure through the beautiful teachings of our faith. This included catechism classes, daily Mass, and, my personal favorite, time with our Lord through Eucharistic Adoration. The night program was a time where the teens, regardless of whether they aided in the day program, could relax, hang out, and play games (Gaga ball was a favorite.) Of course the night program also focused on our spiritual journey. Some of the highlights were talks from our missionaries, which were followed by small group where we'd break up and just have a casual discussion about our faith and how God spoke to us that day. Finally, to close out the night, we'd all walk over to the church for an evening prayer. The week was drawn to a close with a fantastic final day activity. The chosen activity for the afternoon program was an intense water fight. This was followed by popsicles as everyone discussed how much fun they had throughout the week and what everyone's favorite highlights of the week were. As for the night program, the teens started off with a delicious pizza dinner. After dinner, one by one, we wandered over to our makeshift Gaga Ball court to play a few rounds where Emily Bamberger rains supreme as the Gaga Ball champ with roughly a 3 out of 4 win ratio. Eventually the missionaries led us outside for a game of "shaving cream wiffleball." This slowly descended into a full-on shaving cream fight resulting each of us covered from head to toe in shaving cream! As you can imagine it was quite a time washing off! Finally we all gathered around a campfire, roasted marshmallows, and talked about the stories from the past week which would go down in Totus Tuus history. I mean this genuinely when I say that through the choice of missionaries, God sent some of the most amazing people onto my path! Kathryn, Greg, Marianna, and Jonathan were truly some of the coolest people I've met in my life. They know how to keep it real. I think between kids and teens we had around 80 participants and it was easy to tell that each of these missionaries was just completely invested in every single one of us. To sum things up, this was easily the most fun and faith involved week of my summer and I seriously cannot recommend it enough.

—Sam Leininger
