Don't Pass the Salt! Low Sodium Seasoning Guide

1. Resist the urge to use salt in cooking or using the salt shaker. One teaspoon of salt is equal to 2,300 mg of sodium.
2. Use spices and herbs to flavor your foods to add interest and variety.
3. Herb Blends
These herb blends can be found in your local store to add flavor to the foods you enjoy.
Be sure to check the label to be sure they do not contain salt or sodium on the list of ingredients.

How to cook with herbs and spices:

- To release more flavor and aroma, finely chop fresh herbs before using in the recipe. Try using kitchen shears.
- Add herbs and spices at the end of the cooking time in soups and stews. That way the flavors won't cook out.
- Add herbs and spices several hours before serving a cold dish, such as salads and dips.
- A general rule of thumb with herbs and spices: one tablespoon of fresh herbs equals one teaspoon of dried herbs.

Finding "Hidden" salt on a label

- Sodium benzoate (a preservative)
- Sodium nitrate (a preservative used in processed meats)
- Bicarbonate of soda or baking soda
- Sodium pyrophosphate
- Monosodium glutamate
