

What's New in Grade 5?

This week, we

- Completed an entire battery of IOWA tests in good stride!
- Led the school community in a Yom HaZikkaron commemoration in honor of Israel's fallen; visited an Israeli invention fair, then celebrated Yom Ha'Atzmaut in song, dance, and games!
- Participated in an Environmental Science Career workshop, experiencing what a wide variety of environmental scientists do in the course of a normal day. Ask your child how many different animals we found in the pond outside, and what they were!
- Began in Hebrew a study of flags and their symbolism, before discussing how the state of Israel chose to design her flag, and why.
- Continued our reading of The City of Ember.
- Worked on a math activity to ensure our comprehension of volume.
- Played "Jeopardy" as we studied several selections from Rashi's commentary, and tried to figure out from his responses what were the underlying questions. (The critical thinking technique we practiced is known as "Mah kashe leRashi" – What is Rashi's difficulty?)
