South Florida Haiti Project in Bondeau

Ongoing Projects

Education:

Grades Pre-Kindergarten through 13th sponsored with a $71,000 annual budget for teacher salaries, teacher training and operation expenses at Bon Samaritan Episcopal School, which helps keep tuition low for the area's impoverished families. About 300 children rely on this school for education that will help provide them with a brighter future.

Clean Water:

Years of determination to bring potable water into the community, exploring every possibility with intense evaluation included drilling multiple times with no potable water. Finally, the best solution was to build a pipeline from the spring up the mountain over a mile away. The United Thank Offering (UTO) provided a generous grant for this dream of the Bondeau people to become reality. Begun in August, this ambitious project is expected to be complete by the end of 2021 releasing the community from carrying water from over a mile away each day.

Preventive & Acute Healthcare:

A school nurse at a cost of $3,000 per year is the foundation of the school-based wellness center teaching good personal health care. Basic ongoing attainable healthcare remains a need for the children and families of Bondeau. Over the last 8 years, relationships with amazing Haitian medical professionals have been developed and has grown into a new Healthcare Plan now waiting for funding.

Economic Sustainability:

Through education and economic projects, Bondeau leaders want to offer their community ways to work... ways to provide for themselves and their families... ways to live out their dreams of being self-sufficient and fulfilled. Already, there are 4 graduates of Bon Samaritan School that are now teachers! The latest exciting project holds great promise—The Chicken Broiler Project thru Food For The Poor.

Feeding Program:

Our goal is to provide a hot lunch for each child and their teachers during the school year. Food Packing events provided nutritious food for part of the year feeding 300 students each day. The success of the Food Pairing program this past year has funded school lunches for the upcoming school year. Emergency food for the community is still an ongoing need.

All funds are used only for their designated purpose and only for the mission work of South Florida Haiti Project.
