NEW Leadership Redefined @ Evolving Work Force

This is a 24-hour course designed for employees working in a constantly evolving corporate culture, any government entity or great tool for dislocated employees to find their own talent and leadership skills that has never been explored. Course materials include lectures, participant group activity, and discussion of case studies.

Instructor: Lalith Galagedera (see back for bio)

The basic topic areas will include, but not limited to the following:

- Leadership in Everyone – How to Tap into your Strengths
- Importance of Leadership in the Evolving Work Force
- Management vs. Leadership – understand the difference?
- How to use Communication as a Leadership Tool
- Conflict Resolution- How to start a Difficult Conversation

Each session is highly interactive by sharing and discussing participant experience representing variety of industries they serve, class room exercises, personal reflection, small group activities, and the use of interactive anonymous clickers to give instant feedback. Participants will come away with enhanced tools for providing feedback in confidence, leading as individuals as well as in teams. This course will include renewed ideas and instructor guidance designed to connect lessons learned during classroom exercises and day-to-day activities @ an evolving work force!
