Marsheilah Lyons, Deputy Research Director in the Research Division of the Nevada Legislative Counsel Bureau (LCB), passed away on April 18, 2021. A 20-year veteran of the LCB, Marsheilah held numerous analyst positions through the years culminating in her leadership role within the Research Division. She was also an active member of the CSG West Legislative Agency/Research Directors Committee (LSA/RD) and the CSG Shared State Legislation Committee.

Prior to joining the LCB, she held several management positions with organizations whose work supported local communities. She held a Master of Arts in Christian Education from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and a B.S. in Occupational Education from Wayland Baptist University.

Well known for saying, “If you are not a part of the solution, you are probably part of the problem,” the focus of Marsheilah’s expertise and energy was regularly applied to efforts in support of health and human services policy. More than a veteran staff member, Marsheilah was known as a dedicated colleague, mentor, and leader. Her years of service to the state of Nevada were marked by her personal integrity and dedication to the legislative institution she served.
