

(KIND-BAL) Quick Topics Training— Best Practices for Working with UAC (Trauma-informed Approaches)

Wednesday, December 16, 2020, 12pm-1pm EST (Online)

Presenters: Alejandra Morisi & Michael Lynch

Please join KIND Baltimore for a Quick Topics Webinar on Best Practices for Working with UACs. Participants will receive an overview of trauma and its variable impacts in children's ability to fully participate in legal interviews, court proceedings, and attorney meetings. The training will discuss the common symptomology of past trauma in children and youth, and participants will learn a number of ways in which childhood trauma and PTSD are cognitively, emotionally, and behaviorally expressed by immigrant children and adolescents in an interview setting. Additionally, presenters will review 'best practices' and recommended strategies for conducting culturally-sensitive legal interviews that reduces the potential for further harm or re-traumatization. Please RSVP by Monday, December 14 here.

(AILA) 2020 AILA Crimes and Immigration Virtual Conference: Immigration Consequences of Criminal Activity

December 3, 2020 9:50am-6pm (Online)

Designed by some of the country's leading immigration experts, known for successfully defending crime-based charges and inadmissibility, the faculty of this conference will examine some of the most common categories of crime and teach you to dissect the elements. Crucial bond, habeas, and detention developments across the jurisdictions will be discussed. An entire panel will be devoted to the lucrative and interesting work of fashioning a criminal plea. Panelists also will provide in-depth categorical analysis of controlled substances, crimes of violence, theft, fraud, and prostitution. The conference also includes a panel on handling criminal arrests for the employment-based practitioner, as well as sessions providing invaluable information regarding case law updates, relief, and waivers.
