

Screening and Panel

Tue, Feb 19, 2019 6:30 PM

Organized By:

Washington DC Chapter
Sierra Club

Location: 50 F St NW,
Washington, DC 20001, USA

Styrofoam Mom The Movie

SIERRA CLUB
WASHINGTON D.C.

"The mission of the Sierra Club is to explore, enjoy and protect the planet. Protecting the planet includes pointing out the dangers at hand and advocating for positive change.

Styrofoam - polystyrene - is ubiquitous in our consumer culture. And, once produced, it never goes away. Think about that. It NEVER goes away. The DC Chapter of the Sierra Club is pleased to host a showing of Styrofoam Mom to point out the dangers of this product as well as actions we can take to minimize its use so that we can fulfill our mission to protect planet

<https://www.sierraclub.org/dc>

Janine Finnell, Executive Director,
Leaders in Energy
"What is a Circular Economy?"

Panelist

Tommy Wells the author of the DC Bag Law and
Director of the Washington DC
Department of Energy & Environment

Greg Casten is president Ocean Pro Ind. Profish Ltd. Awarded the Mayor's Sustainability Award for their environmental stewardship, innovative best practices, pollution prevention, and resource conservation. Greg is featured in the film.

Jessica Graham president JG Global Advisory an environmental security management consulting company. Jessica is an eco-warrior that has worked with the U.S. government and international organizations on environmental issues over the last decade, working at the cross-section of law enforcement and conservation.

Kevin P. Furnary local entrepreneur whose career has been dedicated to pursuing commercial opportunities that emerge from the global issues related to climate change. Introducing "Balkrete."

Thanks to our media sponsors

Leaders in Energy

Potential Energy DC