“Library Lines: We close a difficult year and look forward to 2022”

Did you know that the Cheboygan Area Public Library has a seven-member Board of Trustees that helps to plan for the future of the Library? The board consists of representatives of each township (Aloha, Beaugrand, Benton, Grant, Inverness) that the Cheboygan Area Public Library serves plus the Cheboygan Area Public Schools and the City of Cheboygan.

This year there are four new members that have joined the board. Our new board members are Nadene Delana from Aloha township, Sam King from Grant township, Don Gezon from Beaugrand township, and Bruce Gauthier representing the City of Cheboygan. Longstanding members include Dan Welihan who represents the Cheboygan Area Public Schools, Mary Ellen Enos from Benton township, and Kay Forster from Inverness township.

This team of volunteers is charged with helping to guide the director and staff along the course of the mission of the Cheboygan Area Public Library, which is to provide quality materials and services which fulfill the educational, informational, cultural, and recreational needs of the entire community in an atmosphere that is welcoming, respectful and professional.

Each board member supports the balance of the long-term prosperity of the library and the short-term needs by offering their personal experience and knowledge as well as their dedication to community involvement to their position on the Library Board. If you know any of these board members, be sure to thank them for their dedication and hard work on behalf of the community through their service on the CAPL Board of Trustees. We appreciate the personal time and energy they sacrifice to serve on the board and their dedication to what the Library represents.
