The S.S. St. Louis: The ship of Jewish refugees that nobody wanted!

On May 13, 1939, more than 900 Jews fled Germany aboard the S.S. St. Louis. Turned away both from Havana, Cuba, and, by the F.D.R. administration, from the U. S. shores, they were forced to return to Europe. Of those aboard, 250 were murdered by the Nazis. Hans Fisher was a young boy aboard the S.S. St. Louis.
