Recipients of Courthouse and Historic Preservation Restoration Grants announced

AHPP awards 41 grants to recipients throughout the state

LITTLE ROCK— The Arkansas Historic Preservation Program (AHPP) has announced its fiscal year 2023 County Courthouse Restoration and Historic Preservation Restoration Grants. Between the two grant categories, a total of nearly $3 million will be awarded to 41 grant recipients.

“We are proud to facilitate these resources to preserve and enrich communities across Arkansas,” said Stacy Hurst, secretary of the Arkansas Department of Parks, Heritage and Tourism. “The projects that these grants fund enhance the quality of life and quality of place in Arkansas. Having strong connections to our past drives community engagement, and it bolsters economic development.”

Arkansas Heritage Director Jimmy Bryant expanded on the importance of these grants to Arkansas cities and counties.

“AHPP’s County Courthouse Restoration Grants and Historic Preservation Restoration Grants assist the people of Arkansas with the vital task of restoring our historic properties,” Bryant said. “These properties serve as a source of community pride and a local tie to our state’s history and the importance of historic preservation. The AHPP is part of ensuring that these places remain to tell the story of Arkansas.”

In existence since 1988, the County Courthouse Restoration Grant Program encourages and promotes the preservation and continued use of Arkansas's historic courthouses by providing financial assistance for repair and rehabilitation work. The program is funded by a grant to the AHPP by the Arkansas Natural and Cultural Resources Council using Arkansas Real Estate Transfer Tax funds. County Courthouse Restoration Grants are awarded annually. Since its inception, the program has provided $28 million in grants for rehabilitation work to 79 courthouses and annexes in 64 counties.
