Awards $29.8 Million to Help Address Homelessness

SACRAMENTO – The California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) announced the second and final round of award funds totaling $29.8 million from the California Emergency Solutions and Housing (CESH) program. CESH is a state program providing funds for a variety of activities to assist people experiencing or at risk of homelessness.

Authorized by Senate Bill (SB) 850, Chapter 48, Statutes of 2018, the CESH program is funded from the Building Homes and Jobs Act Trust Fund (SB 2, Chapter 364, Statutes of 2017) and all remaining California Emergency Solutions Grant funds.

CESH program funds have been awarded to Continuums of Care — regional or local planning bodies that coordinate housing and services funding for homeless families and individuals — which in turn have chosen administrative entities to use the money to provide services. The funding will help Californians through rental assistance, stabilization services, outreach services, and more. All Continuums of Care in the state are receiving funds.

Many Californians earn less than 30 percent of median income and pay more than half of their income toward rent. Such rising costs are visible in a growing number of areas throughout the state. There is a cost of homelessness, both human and fiscal, and the CESH program is taking the step toward ending homelessness in California.

The California Department of Housing and Community Development is dedicated to the preservation and expansion of safe and affordable housing, so more Californians have a place to call home. Our team works to ensure an adequate supply of housing for Californians and promotes the growth of strong communities through its leadership, policy and program development.
