

TRADITIONAL KNOWLEDGE (TK) LABELS WORKSHOP

How can we inform others how , when, where , and by whom Karuk intellectual property should be viewed?

United States Department of Agriculture

National Institute of Food and Agriculture

Come join the Karuk Tribe's Pikyav Field Institute and Local Contexts to explore possibilities to make our voices heard!

When? Thursday and Friday, Nov. 3 and 4, 2016, 9 am—noon

Where? Orleans Community Room, Dept. Natural Resources

For more information, contact Romnay Beck at 530.627.3446. This project was funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Services and the USDA Farm to School Project and the USDA Agriculture and Food Research Initiative of the National Institute for Food and Agriculture Grant #2012-68004-20018.