

1010 Foothill Blvd. La Cañada Flintridge CA 91011
(818) 790-0717 www.flintridgebooks.com

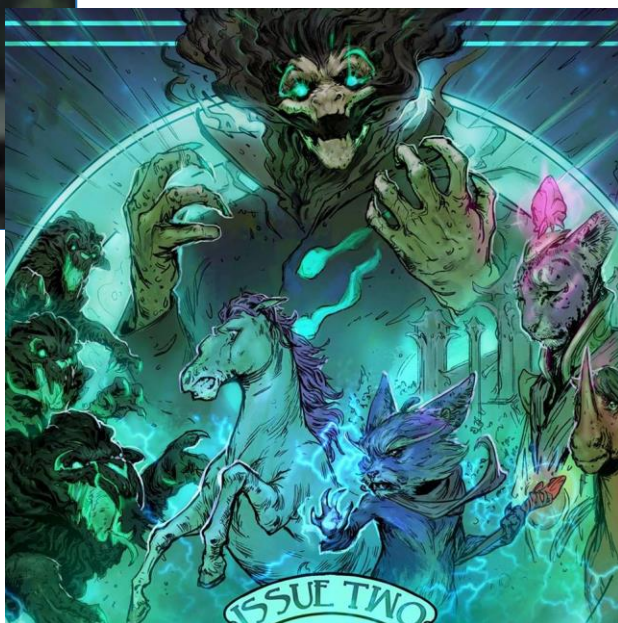

AUTHOR APPEARANCES:

Colin Bird & Nick Bain

Sat., June 1, 5:00 PM

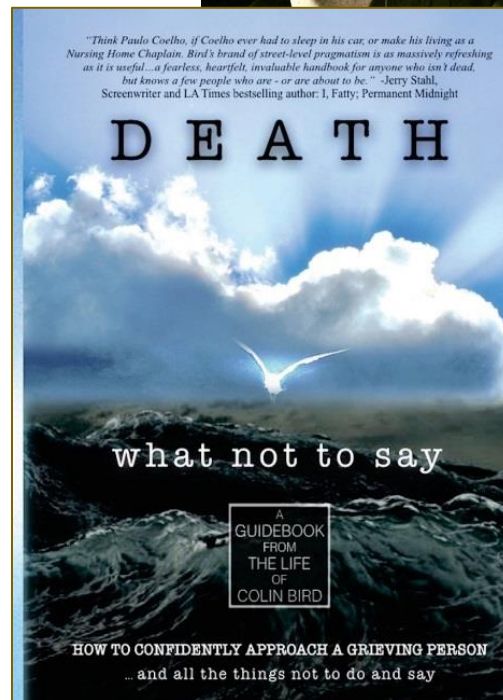

The Unicorn and the Fox
A Graphic Novel written by Nick Bain
Art by Nick Acuna (Ark Entertainment LLC.)

Nick Bain is a professional screenwriter, who has written more than fifteen feature length screenplays. Most recently he co-wrote "Kid West," which has been nationally distributed.

He is currently writing a 3D animated script for the Hindi market, as well as producing a suspense-horror film he co-wrote, to be shot in his home state of Minnesota. His scripts have also placed in major competitions, and he has worked as a director, producer and film historian.

That said, he feels that The Unicorn and the Fox is the project he is most passionate about. In a flash, the story came to him. The first draft of the story was completed in two days, and Nick Acuna would be the only illustrator interviewed for the project.

Death - What Not to Say: How to Confidently Approach a Grieving Person ... and all the things not to do and say by Colin Bird

Colin Bird is a former Nursing Home Chaplain and guest lecturer at universities, churches, corporate in-home nursing seminars, teen and youth conferences.

His motivational speaking topics include coping with grief, overcoming obstacles with courage, anti-bullying, and the process of writing. After graduating from The Los Angeles Film School, Bird worked with Paramount Pictures and is currently pitching projects for television and film.

His next novel, "INVISIBLE EYES: The Illusion Of A Star" is set for a 2019 release as part of the "My Father's Chair" trilogy.

Bird is a world record-setting adventure runner with many miles to go. He resides in Hollywood, CA.