TRI-COUNTY COMMUNITY HEALTH IMPROVEMENT COALITION

Calumet | Outagamie | Winnebago Counties

The Tri-County Community Health Improvement Coalition has released the first-ever shared Community Health Report for our region—bringing together data, community voices, and lived experience to better understand what shapes health and well-being across Northeast Wisconsin.

What the Report Shows

Health outcomes are driven by access to vital conditions, not just health care. Wealth inequality is a major root cause of health disparities. Housing, child care, transportation, education, belonging, and basic needs all matter. Collaboration across communities and sectors is essential.

Why It Matters

Nearly 500,000 people live in the Tri-County region. This report creates a shared understanding and a shared starting point for action—so everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

Join the Effort

This report is not the finish line—it's the beginning.

- Learn about community health priorities
- Use the findings to guide programs, policies, and investments
- Be part of building healthier, more connected communities
