yes i agree, we have the resources but not the patience

Irena Connelly Apr 8

I agree, the world has changed a lot and the fact that World War One has just ended in 1918 was a big factor.

Chloe Crane Apr 8

I also agree with how we know more now about viruses now and we hear about it more now because it's not being covered up.

Tristan Carless Apr 8

yea theres all these stupid people denying that its a thing

Alice Kleinberg Apr 8

I think that while there are a lot of similarities in the two pandemics, i don't think we are going to make the same mistakes that we made 100 years ago, because now we have so much more knowledge about how diseases spread, and knowledge about how to prevent them. the similarities between the cases are daunting though. For example, in the beginning of both pandemics, the government tried to cover things up/try to make it seem less of a big deal. a big difference now is that we are not currently at war, so the only reason to not deal with the severity of the pandemic is our government's incompetence

OSA Equity Town Hall "Fulfilling the Promise"

Thursday, June 18, 2020

6:00-7:30pm

Zoom Link: <https://zoom.us/j/98458208842>

Join the OSA school community, leadership, and alumni for an important Gathering to envision how OSA will fulfill its promise of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.

We will dialog with one another, provide information, share stories, and prepare for the critical work that lies ahead. While the priority of diversity, equity & inclusion is not a new topic of discussion or concern at OSA, this moment calls us to recognize that change cannot only come from within. We must come together as a community and share in the commitment to fulfill the promise.

We hope that you will join us!
