Our Houston litigators, transactional, and regulatory lawyers meet a full range of client needs.

Our litigators are experienced in resolving complicated disputes in Texas and around the world. And our transactional lawyers are experienced in acquiring, developing, financing, and selling energy and infrastructure projects. Clients in the oil and gas industry; infrastructure funds and developers; financial institutions; and Engineering, Procurement, and Construction (EPC) contractors turn to us for counsel.

Our IP lawyers handle the full gamut of contentious and non-contentious matters. They understand highly technical tort and commercial matters involving multiple parties and jurisdictions, as well as the application of foreign and domestic law.
