

2017 Reverse Trade Show/Business Partner Exchange

Sponsored by Roberts Markel Weinberg Butler Hailey PC

In a traditional trade show, business partners set up booths, hoping to make connections with decision makers while attendees stroll past their booth.

In a Business Exchange, attendees sit at tables, grouped by Management Company or community, while business partners move around. Based on the concept of "speed dating," it allows business partners a quick 3 minute opportunity to network directly with decision makers.

Attendees get a chance to meet our trusted business partners, and find new solutions, services and products to benefit their communities and companies.
