Robert C. Johnson III Elected to Board of Directors for Johnson & Johnson

CHARLESTON, SC – We are pleased to announce that Robert (Rob) C. Johnson III, Executive Vice President of Commercial Lines, has been elected to the Board of Directors for Johnson & Johnson. Rob oversees the commercial lines division for J&J, which currently handles business in 32 states. Rob started his career at J&J in 2015 after completing internships with Nautilus Insurance Company, Markel Specialty, and Lloyds of London. Born and raised in Charleston, Rob graduated from the College of Charleston with a degree in Business Administration. Rob is married to Anne Darby, and they have three wonderful children. Rob enjoys spending his free time outdoors with his family. His passions include fishing, hunting and boating.

"I am very happy and honored to have Rob Johnson join the board of Johnson & Johnson. His work with other companies such as Nautilus, Markel and Lloyds gave him the experience to come into J&J and lead the commercial lines division to incredible growth over the last nine years. His knowledge and leadership will help guide the strategy of J&J into the future," said Francis Johnson, Chairman and CEO, Johnson & Johnson. "I am very excited to have Rob Johnson join our board. Rob's experience and leadership over his nine years has propelled J&J's commercial lines presence in the US. I know this same level of leadership and passion will only add to Johnson & Johnson's continued growth and expertise in navigating the ever-changing market," said Harry Johnson, President and COO, Johnson & Johnson.
