

Small Businesses, Big Hearts: Local Support Drives Playground Project Forward

$380,000 of the $670,000 goal raised

Exciting news: Green Lake City Council officially approved the updated quote from Burke/Lee Recreation at $450,430. It is about $10,000 higher than the original estimate from Fall 2023, however, this increase was anticipated and included in the overall budget. With approval secured, we've now locked in pricing and can move forward confidently with planning and timelines.

Progress continues for the Playground Park Revamp, and once again our community is showing up in the biggest of ways, especially our local small businesses

We'd like to give a huge shoutout to Phil Mirr and the team from Mirr of Green Lake, who donated their time and services to the new playground. It's another powerful reminder that small businesses aren't just part of our town, they're the heart of it.

The momentum didn't stop there. We're thrilled to announce that Egbert Excavating will be handling all the site excavation work for the new playground, and they're doing it as a donation to the project.

And it gets better: Dan Egbert didn't stop at excavation. He's gone above and beyond by coordinating a concrete donation in partnership with Stagg Builders Inc and Carew Concrete. These three companies are now tackling one of the largest logistical needs for the playground, and they're doing it out of generosity and community pride.

How amazing is that?!

And it's not just businesses stepping up - our youth are getting involved too. A huge thank you to Callie Kinas and Lillian Hazelberg, who recently hosted a lemonade stand to raise $80 for their special friend, Johnnie Castleberry, and the Playground Park Revamp. This kind of heart and action is exactly what this project is all about.
