Water Policy in Arizona and Semi-arid Regions

Professor Sharon B. Megdal, smegdal@arizona.edu

Spring 2021, Fridays 9:00 – 11:30 am

Format: live on-line.

This course focuses on water policy in Arizona, the Colorado River Basin, and other semi-arid regions from a multi-disciplinary perspective. Professor Megdal and guest-lecturers draw upon their experiences to demonstrate the development, analysis and implementation of real-world water policy. Student assignments include writing and presenting a policy-focused research paper. Enrollment is limited.

The paper for this course has fulfilled the substantial paper requirement for several law students.
