

Tell your water-efficiency story at WSI 2019 Now accepting abstracts through Feb. 28

Attention, experts in the fields of urban water efficiency and conservation: You're invited to submit an abstract for consideration as a professional session presenter at the 12th annual WaterSmart Innovations Conference and Exposition (WSI), to be held Oct. 2-3 in Las Vegas. Abstracts are due no later than Thursday, Feb. 28 to patrick.watson@snwa.com. Candidates must include contact information, organization name, and the name and contact information for any secondary speaker with their abstract. A complete list of topics and submittal guidelines is available at WaterSmartInnovations.com. We'll notify successful candidates by e-mail and postal mail no later than Monday, April 29.

Complimentary conference registration will be provided to all accepted participants for the day of their presentation only, or receive a $110 discount off full conference registration of $395. We'll consider all topics related to innovations in water conservation, including:

- Water/Energy Production Nexus
- Drought Management
- Alternate Sources
- Rainwater/Greywater/Stormwater Harvesting
- Sustainable Construction and Development
- High-Efficiency Fixtures and Appliances
- Policy Development/Public Outreach
- Landscapes and Outdoor Water Use
- Marketing
- Conservation and Incentives
- Education (youth, adult)
- Water Loss Management
- Water Efficiency and the Environment

The Southern Nevada Water Authority is again presenting WSI in partnership with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's WaterSense Program, the Alliance for Water Efficiency, the American Water Works Association, and other forward-thinking organizations. Visit WaterSmartInnovations.com for updates, schedules, and more information.