

Community and Family Partnership: Local Evaluation Work

A satisfaction survey was sent to CFP's collaborative members after their October 2025 collaborative meeting. The purpose of this survey was to gain members' perspectives on how effective their meetings were regarding their collaborative goals. Analysis of the responses identified key areas; these data are explored in the visuals below. Out of approximately 39 attendees, 25 members responded to the survey after the meeting concluded, for a response rate of 64%.

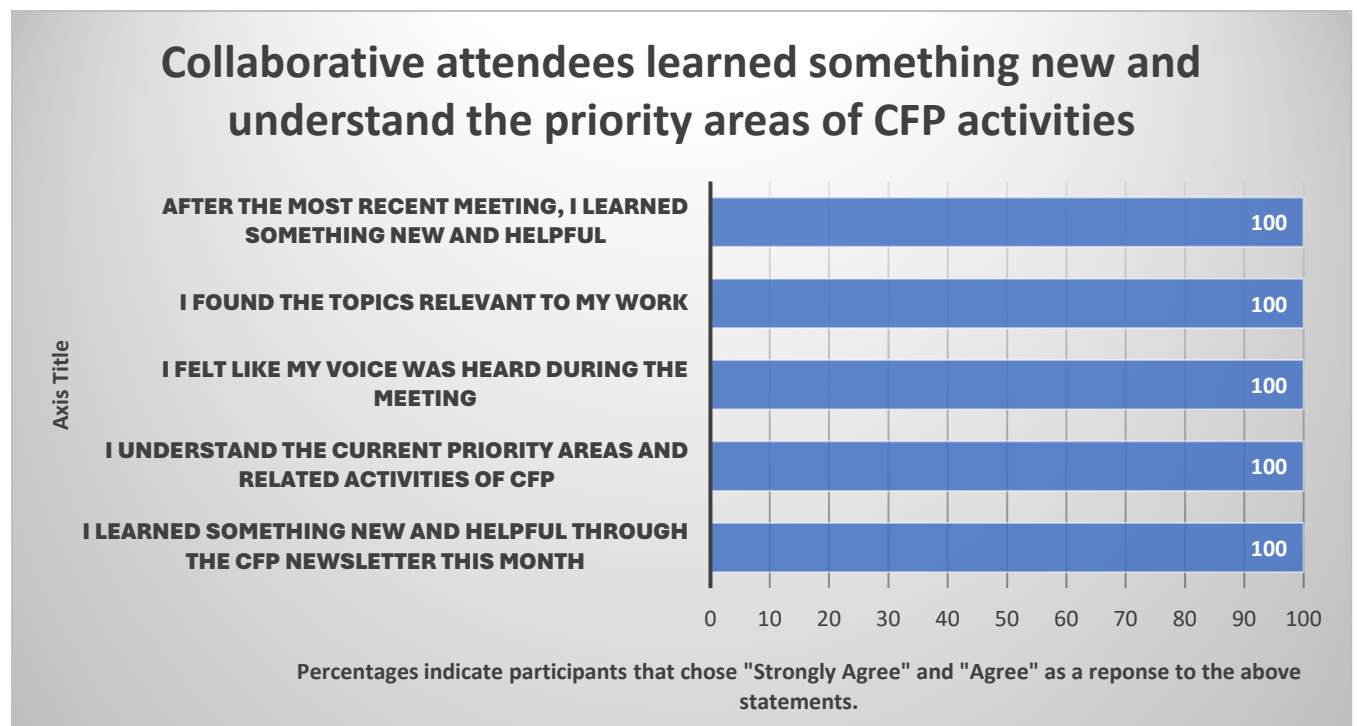

Members love the discussions and networking at our in-person collaborative meetings. With the changes in our work, people loved the chance to discuss what is currently being done and what resources are available.

“CFP is where I get all my information on local resources for families I work with. Great things happen because of CFP that normally wouldn't be available to families.”
