

Choir director needed for our small church choir. Must have proficient keyboard skills and be able to record accompaniments, meaning we have an electric keyboard the choir director uses to play the accompaniments while recording the keyboard music only. The director does this on their own time or sometimes during our weekly choir rehearsals. During our church services the choir director then plays the recorded accompaniments while standing to direct the vocal choir. Nobody is sitting at the keyboard when we are singing with the recorded keyboard accompaniments being started with the push of a button. Will provide training on keyboard. A significant music library has been established. Director sets singing schedule for choir – at least two Sundays per month and weekly evening practice between September and June. The choir currently does not meet in June, July, or August.

Salary: $1,800.00 for church year
