Symposium Purpose

Faith-based organizations, houses of worship & community groups face a number of threats from across the all-hazards environment. To enhance individual organizations' preparedness, security, & resilience beyond what they can do alone, collaboration is a key to success & effective risk mitigation. We will discuss some of the challenges organizations are facing & some of the ways they can work together to enhance one another's individual & collective security operations.

Target Audience

Open to all faith-based organizations, houses of worship, schools & community groups.
