SEPTEMBER 15, 2022

National Hispanic Heritage Month

In 2022, National Hispanic American Heritage Month begins on September 15th and is celebrated through October 15th. The Library of Congress, National Archives and Records Administration, National Endowment for the Humanities, National Gallery of Art, National Park Service, Smithsonian Institution and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum join in paying tribute to the generations of Hispanic Americans who have positively influenced and enriched our nation and society.

SEPTEMBER 19, 2022

National Employ Older Workers Week

This year, National Employ Older Workers Week (NEOWW) takes place from September 18th to September 24th. NEOWW is a great opportunity to remind people that it is always a great time to hire an older worker!

SEPTEMBER 19, 2022

Adult Education and Family Literacy Week

Once a year, educators from all over the country join together with adult learners, community partners, business leaders, legislators, and friends of adult education to amplify their successes.
