Check out what's been happening in
Career Pathways this week!

Title: Eight Futures of Work: Scenarios and their Implications

World Economic Forum produces a report which creates eight potential worlds based on how different combinations of three key variables may come together – the rate of technological change and its impact on business models; the evolution of learning among the current and future workforce; and the magnitude of talent mobility across geographies.

Title: Four Ways to Increase the Value of Short-Term Credentials: A Guide for Community Colleges

Authors: Veronica Buckwalter

Jobs for the Future created this "Guide for Community Colleges," stating: Low-income young adults seeking to advance in today's economy can often benefit from alternative education credentials that prepare them for good jobs. However, community colleges don't always make the case to employers that these credentials align with employer demand.

Title: Mythbuster! WIOA Titles I and II

Authors: Division of Youth Services

MYTH: WIOA Youth Program and Adult Education and Family Literacy Act (Titles I and II of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act) funding can't be used jointly to serve disconnected youth.

FACT: Titles I and II of WIOA provide complementary services to youth ages 16-24 and used together can serve disconnected youth.

Thank You!

Sincerely,
