

What My Home Means To Me

Love is what my home means to me. My grandma and grandpa built my home, but sadly my sweet grandparents have passed. Now I live there with my parents and my Aunt. I have a lot of loving memories at my home, like game night and family movie night! We even build forts sometimes. I love my special home.

