“What every REALTOR® should know about selling rural property”.

Rural property buyers seem to come from all walks of life. Many or most of them have “little to none” experience in the many items that should be a concern to them. As a REALTOR® you should at least be aware of these items in order to “property” advise them. You may not have to be a mountain man to sell rural property but remember that green horn buyers shouldn’t have a green horn agent!

Joe Garst says “At some point, every broker will have the opportunity to represent a client in a transaction that involves a well, septic system or acreage. As a Real Estate Professional you need to be knowledgeable of what’s involved to property advise and navigate your clients through the process. This class should be a requirement and Jim Palmer, Jr. has the hands-on experience to guide REALTORS® through the process”.
