

Dear Gayland,

As we all deal with the impact of COVID-19, I am continually reminded that God is drawing people to Himself. This task of world missions continues alongside the mission to reach our communities.

This month, I want to send two items. You will find a message from General Superintendent Doug Clay that conveys to our churches that AGWM continues to move forward amidst this crisis. Additionally, I am sending a video on Buddhism, a call to build a prayer base for spiritual breakthrough.

We are praying for you. Please reach out to me if there is anything we can do to help you, your pastors and churches, or your missionaries.

Standing together,
Andy Raatz

READ BELOW

Still Moving Forward

The Assemblies of God began with the DNA of missions in our core, a focus that continues to this day. With over 2,700 missionaries around the world, AG World Missions continues to reflect our heart to see the Church established among all peoples everywhere.

COVID-19 has certainly absorbed our focus and energy over the last days, particularly in regard to our prayer requests for Greg Mundis, Executive Director of AGWM, as well as Ron Maddux, Northern Asia Regional Director, and a number of our missionaries, all still in the hospital facing medical challenges.

Though none of us imagined such a scenario, I want to reassure all of you that our organization and mission continue moving forward. The Executive Committee of AGWM continues to guide and lead the organization, its staff, and its missionaries. Kevin Donaldson, AGWM Administrator, as Vice Chair, is serving as spokesman for AGWM, as well as dealing with the day-to-day decisions to keep our mission moving forward supporting each missionary on the field.

Jesus said that He would build His Church, and the gates of hell would not prevail. Pray for Kevin, each member of the Executive Committee, our missionaries, as well as the pastors of our local churches-- that God would equip each to bring hope to their places of influence.

-Doug Clay, General Superintendent

The Assemblies of God began with the DNA of missions in our core, a focus that continues to this day. With over 2,700 missionaries around the world, AG World Missions continues to reflect our heart to see the Church established among all peoples everywhere.

COVID-19 has certainly absorbed our focus and energy over the last days, particularly in regard to our prayer requests for Greg Mundis, Executive Director of AGWM, as well as Ron Maddux, Norther Asia Regional Director, and a number of our missionaries, all still in the hospital facing medical challenges.

Though none of us imagined such a scenario, I want to reassure all of you that our organization and mission continue moving forward. The Executive Committee of AGWM continues to guide and lead the organization, its staff, and its missionaries. Kevin Donaldson, AGWM Administrator, as Vice Chair, is serving as spokesman for AGWM, as well as dealing with the day-to-day decisions to keep our mission moving forward supporting each missionary on the field.

Jesus said that He would build His Church, and the gates of hell would not prevail. Pray for Kevin, each member of the Executive Committee, our missionaries, as well as the pastors of our local churches-- that God would equip each to bring hope to their places of influence.

-Doug Clay, General Superintendent

---

Buddhism WorldView

A few months ago, Greg Mundis returned from overseas with a huge burden for the Buddhist world. This month's WorldView will highlight that part of the world with the goal of bringing awareness and building a base of intercession. May the Church be established in the Buddhist world like we have never seen!