Cultivating hope and joy among the unreached in Northern Asia

Our Story

We are high school sweethearts and have lived our entire lives in Wisconsin. Jeff's career has been in electronics engineering management. Brittnia has served in elementary education for many years with a focus on inner city schools.

We have had a passion for reaching the lost ever since our first trip in college and have been striving to retire early and go into foreign ministry. In 2015, Brittnia prayed for God to stir up a fire in the hearts of our family, and God made it clear that we need to be ready to go earlier than our retirement plans.

While going through the Live Dead Journal in 2018, God ignited an urgency in us for the unreached. We prayerfully decided to make a career change and focus our life's work on reaching the unreached. We have each received individual confirmations about our calling to Northern Asia.

The Need

- 94% of the 1.4 billion people are spiritually lost
- 467 unreached people groups
- Only global region without AG national church
- Significant increase of religious persecution
- Volatile political and market conditions

For those who live in a land of deep darkness,
a light will shine.
Isaiah 9:2

Strategy

Live Dead Chinese World exists to establish communities of faith among the unreached people groups of the region, with a special focus on Priority 31 ... 31 Muslim, Buddhist, animist, and secularist unreached people groups. This will be accomplished by local ministry teams living among these people, communicating the message of faith, and making disciples.

Utilizing our degrees in education and engineering to gain access to the region, we will be joining an existing ministry team. Our first 2-year assignment will focus on learning culture and building relationships. Our next step, God willing, would be to receive a career appointment and focus the next 2 years learning the language and continuing to build relationships. We are praying that the relationships we develop will open doors to access unreached people groups located in remote parts of the region.
