

From the Desk of Caitlin Williams

Hi Team,

Just a quick update from Washington, D.C.—

Recently, I had the opportunity to meet with the office of Senator Adam Schiff to discuss federal grants and the importance of ensuring that cities, school districts, and public agencies across California continue to have access to competitive funding opportunities. Senator Schiff's team reaffirmed their support for grant-seeking organizations and confirmed that they are actively providing letters of support for eligible applicants, with a minimum of two weeks' notice. We at California Consulting are happy to coordinate these requests as needed.

The Senator's office remains a helpful and responsive partner for applicants and encourages early outreach to facilitate timely review. We greatly appreciate their ongoing support for our clients and their commitment to advancing federal funding access across California.

As part of our continued efforts to stay current on the federal grants landscape, I'll be holding ongoing meetings with Congressional offices and federal agencies in the coming weeks. These conversations help us stay informed about program timelines, updates, and agency communications—so we can better support our clients with up-to-date information.

Please look out for these weekly DC updates from me as I share insights from the Capitol and provide relevant grant-related news from the federal level.

Thank you,

Caitlin Williams
