Over the years, ECA has developed one of the most successful Supervisory Training Programs (STP) in the country...over 100 Superintendent Courses since the inception of the program some 25+ years ago, training over 3,000 local supervisors, trades people, and office personnel.

Unit #2: Communication presents a body of knowledge and skills that today's construction supervisors need in order to be effective communicators on their job site. The landscape of construction is always changing, with new laws, geographical considerations, and external factors adding complexity. The companies that meet these challenges by developing and maintaining good leadership and communication are the ones that survive and prosper.

Takeaways of Unit #2 include:

- Elements of Communication
- Persuasion, Negotiation, and Difficult Conversations
- Written Communication
- Effective Communication & Listening
- Meetings and Presentations

❖ Communication is for Superintendents and foremen, people who aspire to become superintendents and foremen; people who work with superintendents and foremen; supervisors who work for subs; field secretaries; owners, architects, and engineers; anyone who communicates with the job site.

If you have any employees who may be interested or if you would like additional information on the STP, please call or e-mail Laura Regan at ECA (518-869-0961/laurar@ecainc.org). The Program has been developed by the Associated General Contractors of America. More than 200,000 individuals have participated in STP courses nationally. It was developed by contractors for contractors. Give it a look if you haven't already done so!
