

Job Announcement: Community Organizer, Center for Climate Protection

The Center for Climate Protection seeks an upbeat, strategic, accomplished, and well-networked individual with a sense of humor to work fulltime organizing community support for the Center for Climate Protection. The Community Organizer will help engage and expand a network of activists to advocate for climate policy solutions in California.

Community Organizer's Role

- Design and implement campaign strategies that deliver results
- Take initiative and responsibility
- Build support for strategic policy objectives from volunteers, policymakers, and allied organizations
- Cultivate relationships
- Coordinate public events and rallies
- Facilitate meetings and trainings
- Bonus: Research and develop potential new funding sources

Skills and Qualities

The job requires a person who:

- Has a proven track record of successful community organizing - experience in climate and with organizing legislative campaigns a big plus
- Is very well organized, a strong team player, and builds relationships naturally
- Is charismatic and inspiring with superior communication skills, especially public speaking
- Uses social media effectively to communicate and market projects to targeted audiences
- Skilled in using tools needed for work such as a CRM system, Facebook, Word, Excel, and PowerPoint

Minimum Qualifications

- Track record of successful organizing
- Minimum five years' relevant work experience
- Bachelor's degree or equivalent experience
- Able and willing to work a flexible schedule including nights and weekends
- Available and willing to travel
- Use of a car necessary for fulfilling job responsibilities
- Able to engage in a range of physical activity, including standing or sitting at a desk or computer and walking (sometimes on uneven surfaces) for extended periods of time. Able to climb a flight of stairs and lift/carry up to 30 pounds
- Excellent references

Terms

- Salary and benefits competitive with similar positions in similar organizations
- The Center for Climate Protection is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from individuals who will contribute to its diversity.

To Apply

Please email your resume and a cover letter describing why you want the job and why you are well-suited for the job to Ann Hancock, ann [at] climateprotection.org. We encourage applicants to submit their applications by May 4. Please, no calls. The position is open until filled.

April 24, 2018