

An Overview of Tribal Natural Resource Management

A Webinar Series

This series focuses on tribal land management that encompasses a wide array of topics and includes speakers from across the nation. The goal of this webinar series is to inform forestry and natural resource professionals of the full scope of land management approaches used by Native Americans across the country. In addition, information from this series will provide the audience a better understanding of some of the complex history and policy challenges that also influence tribal land management.

JANUARY 15, 2021

Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians collaborative research and management of culturally important forest products

<http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/state-tribal-fisheries-co-management/?sr=wp~upcoming>

Tommy Cabe, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians

Michelle Baumflek, Research Biologist, US Forest Service, Southern Research Station

John Schelhas, Research Forester, US Forest Service, Southern Research Station

This webinar introduces a program on co-produced research and action to manage forests for culturally important plants within portions of traditional Cherokee homelands.

JANUARY 28, 2021

State & Tribal Fisheries Co-Management in Shared Fishery Lakes

<http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/state-tribal-fisheries-co-management/?sr=wp~upcoming>

Jonathan Gilbert, Director, Biological Services Division Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission

This presentation will focus on the implementation of court affirmed treaty fishing rights in the upper Great Lakes region (Wisconsin and Minnesota). This integration has not always been easy but fishery biologists are developing ways to work together in open and honest information exchange to accomplish common goals.

VIEW ARCHIVED WEBINARS

Introduction to Tribal Lands & their Management

Dr. Julie Thorstenson

<http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/introduction-to-tribal-lands-their-management/>

This webinar included discussions about the diversity of Tribal natural resource programs and the challenges and successes this presents.

Tribal lands: Treaties, federal trust obligation, and opportunities for cross-boundary collaboration

Alicia Bell-Sheetter, and Lexie Rue-Harris

<http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/tribal-lands-treaties-federal-trust-obligation-opportunities-for-cross-boundary-collaboration/>

In this presentation, speakers provided information about the relationship, legal obligations of federal trustees, and opportunities for collaboration with Tribes across boundaries and land jurisdictions to achieve landscape scale benefits.

Caring for all our Relations: Tribal Wildlife Management

Dr. Serra Hoagland and Michel Kohl

<http://www.forestrywebinars.net/webinars/caring-for-all-relations-tribal-wildlife-management/>

In this webinar, the presenters discussed the value and importance of wildlife management in Indian country. Information will highlight the differences between cultural, commercial, and subsistence management practices that occur both on and off tribal lands.

UPCOMING WEBINARS

Examining Tribal Fire Management

Frank Lake, USDA Forest Service

Forestry Practices on Tribal lands

Adrian Leighton, Salish Kootenai College, Division of Natural Resources

Southern Regional Extension Forestry

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
Warnell School of Forestry
& Natural Resources

